

‘AMY’ TOASTS WOODSTOCK SUCCESS

Little Hannah Swan couldn't believe her eyes when "Amy Winehouse" turned up on the doorstep to present her mum, Sarah, with a magnum of champagne.

Martin Newman, Managing Director of Woodstock Homes, had arranged the surprise visit by Amy lookalike Jenna Hunt to Kingfisher Court, the company's latest development of exclusive 4 bedroom homes in the South Gloucestershire countryside, to celebrate the sale of their 250th new home since the business was established in 1994.

Explaining the reasons behind Woodstock Homes success, Martin Newman said: "Keeping things relatively small and independent has enabled us to focus on things that really matter to our customers, such as good build quality and specification, attention to detail coupled with a desire to provide good value and personal service." As well as sites in Bristol, Somerset and South Gloucestershire, Woodstock Homes is now planning to expand its area of operation to Cardiff and Paulton, Somerset.

Phase 2 of Kingfisher Court has recently been released and selling agents Connells – telephone 0117 950 1552 – can give further information and arrange viewings of the show house. As Amy would say: “Why don’t you come on over?”
